

CALLING ALL ROSARY MAKERS

Be part of a nationwide effort to create 75,000 World Mission rosaries for Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen's beatification.

On September 24 in St. Louis, the Church will honor one of the greatest evangelists in American history. Before the Mass begins, tens of thousands will gather to pray the World Mission Rosary. The hope is to give each attendee a World Mission Rosary.

In 1951, Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen, then the national director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith (the parent organization of the Center for Mission), introduced the World Mission Rosary to inspire Catholics to live out their baptismal call to mission through prayer. Each set of colored beads represents a different region of the world where the Church continues its mission of evangelization, inviting the faithful to pray for the people and needs of every continent.

GREEN symbolizes the forests and grasslands of AFRICA.

BLUE is for the ocean surrounding the ISLANDS OF THE PACIFIC.

WHITE symbolizes EUROPE, home of the Holy Father, shepherd of the world.

RED shows the fire of faith that brought the first missionaries to the AMERICAS.

YELLOW is for the morning light of the East, symbolizing ASIA.

Whether you make 100 or 1,000, every rosary becomes part of something larger. Each one will be blessed before the Beatification. Each one will continue to be prayed long after that day is over.
